BECOMING A SUPPORTER

Have you ever been in an accident? Had a bad fall? Broken a limb? If so you will know how debilitating it can be. For some people this is a daily reality. There are approximately 5000 people in the UK who live with the rare condition Osteogenesis Imperfecta. OI is a disorder of collagen, a protein which forms the framework for the bone structure. In OI the collagen may be of poor quality, or there may just not be enough to support the mineral structure of the bones. This makes the bones weak and fragile and results in the bones being liable to fracture at any time even without trauma.

The Brittle Bone Society relies on supporters' to help us continue to provide front line assistance when a diagnosis is made; to work with us to fund specialist mobility equipment and back our calls for improvements in treatment. We are ambitious in our hopes for more research. We want to help every family find the support they need to help them face the challenges OI can bring.

How your support helps:

- Providing annual family conference events for 200 members
- UK wide youth events for 16-30 year olds and tailored events for younger children
- Much needed specialised wheelchairs and equipment costing up to £16,000
- Telephone and online support especially when a child is diagnosed
- Support from NHS specialists through the Charity's medical advisory board
- Running volunteer support group networks across the country
